HIGH ALTITUDES CAUSE MANY DEATHS

Surgeon Carrington Condemns Indiscriminate Sending of Consumptives to Mountains.

WOULD OTHERWISE RECOVER.

International Association Will Elect Officers at Closing Session To-Day in Congress Hall, World's Fair.

"The sending of consumptive patients indiscriminately to high altitudes has caused the death of many persons who, under judicious treatment, would have recovered," was the statement yesterday by Surgeon Paul M. Carrington, who is a member of the International Congress of Military Surgeons, meeting in Congress Hall at the World's Fair.

Surgeon Carrington stated that the barometric pressure at Fort Stanton, which is about 6,000 feet above the sea level, is only four-fifths the pressure at an ordinary level, but he said that this altitude was not injurious to the ordinary consumptive patient.

Surgeon Carrington also advanced the theory that the greater the chest expansion the greater the vitality of the patient and the consequent better chances of recovery. In verification of his statement he produced a table of statistics from that of forty-eight cases which showed that out of three to four inches only eight inches of chest expansion with an expansion of from two to three inches twenty-four had died, and out of eleven cases in which chest expansion was less than one inch nine had died.

PERMANENT CONGRESS.

Colonel Nicholas Senn of the Illinois National Guard read a paper in which he advocated the establishment of a permanent international congress of military surgeons to meet every three years.

In advocating this proposal, Colonel Senn said: "No civilized nation should be so backward-minded enough to impede the advancement of the military and naval surgeon in the field and on the sea by the exercise of no strategy. The duty of the military or naval surgeon is to administer the best treatment, irrespective of friend or foe."

When called to account by Surgeon C. F. H. Heyer of St. Louis, who had made to the effect that there was no naval surgeon, and by the nature of the case there could be no naval surgeon, he said that the naval surgeon had to do with infectious wounds, and that such treatment had not been successful.

During the meeting Colonel John Van R. Hoff of Fort Leavenworth, Kas., introduced a resolution, which was passed to the effect that the members of the congress should wear only those medals to which they were entitled, and that the wearing of numerous badges not prescribed by law often resulted in distraction of the mind.

The final meeting of the association will be held to-day at 9 a. m. in Congress Hall at the World's Fair. A part of the business of the day will be the election of officers for the coming year and the adoption of the place of the next meeting.

Upon the invitation of President Francis, who put at their disposal the official tallyho, his Excellency Ramon Corral, Vice President of Mexico, and his party made a tour of the World's Fair grounds yesterday. The trip in the Yellowstone coach began at 10 o'clock in the morning and was continued after luncheon.

General Edmund Rice, grand marshal of the Exposition, accompanied the distinguished Mexican party, representing President Francis, who, on account of numerous official duties, was unable to be present in person.

The party were Vice President and Mrs. Corral, Roberto Nunez, Mrs. Nunez and Miss Nunez, Major and Mrs. Garcia Cuellar, Mrs. R. Serrano, Commissioner General A. R. Nuncio, General Torres, Senior A. Aldous, General Rice and Ricardo Diaz-Albertini, secretary of the Committee on Reception and Entertainment.

Vice President Corral and party will depart to-morrow, according to their original plans. After the drive through the grounds, Vice President Corral, Ambassador Asproff and Commissioner General Nuncio requested Mr. Albertini to convey to President Francis their personal assurances that there was no truth in the report that they had considered the unavoidable absence of President Francis and other Exposition officials from the reception to Vice President Corral last Wednesday.

They asked Mr. Albertini to say to Mr. Francis that they well understood the multiplicity of the social engagements of Exposition officials, and that they regretted the inability of the Fair officials to attend there when they were holding the duties of their respective offices, save regret at it.

President Francis, Mrs. Manning, Secretary Stevens and Director of Exhibits Skiff have all written cordial notes of regret to the Mexican Commission, in which they have explained the circumstances that prevented them from being present at the reception.

These circumstances were merely the fact that there were so many social engagements, prior to receiving the Mexican party, that they were unable to be present at the reception. The lateness of the hour and the distance of the Platters Hotel prevented them from reaching the reception in time.

In the case of Secretary Stevens he had ordered the carriage to be sent to the Platters Hotel for the reception. When he reached his hotel, however, he found that Mrs. Stevens had been at the World's Fair and had sprained her ankle so seriously that it was impossible for him to leave her that night.
